The noise from air moving devices can be measured in isolation using an in-duct the acoustic properties of the duct do not necessarily match those of the separately in third octave bands at the correct ow.

The maximum instantaneous noise level recorded during a measurement period.

Handbook of Acoustical Measurements and Noise Control, 3rd edition.